

Account Representative for the Nordic markets

Contributed by Team Scandi-jobs.com

Our client Intralox LLC is the world's leading manufacturer of modular plastic conveyor belts. Our sustained growth and financial success is the result of a diligent focus on continuous improvement, a core belief that self-managed people are our greatest asset, and a commitment to ideas, teamwork and effort.

A division of US-based Laitram Corporation, Intralox has operations in the US, the Netherlands, England, Brazil, Australia, Japan and China. From our European HQ in Amsterdam, we provide unmatched service and support to customers throughout Europe.

Account Representative for the Nordic markets.

You are:

- a native Swedish or Norwegian speaker. Additional languages, particularly Danish, are highly advantageous. Good command of English is essential.
- technically and commercially oriented.
- experienced (minimum 3 years) in a remote customer sales and support environment.
- an effective communicator, with a sense of ownership and a strong internal drive to achieve professional goals.

We offer:

- a challenging, commercial role in a multinational team, with occasional travel to customer sites and trade shows.
- an extensive ongoing training programme.
- an attractive remuneration package which includes performance based profit sharing programme.

Apply for this job now!